The development of 200 houses is too big a development for a village of the size of Cottenham. It will have a negative impact on the village and the facilities in the village. What about the schools, doctor surgeries etc, how can the current facilities cope with the increase of residents that will live in the 200 houses? The roads currently are very busy in the village, how can they cope with the additional number of cars that will come from the development.

I would like to object to the development due to the size of it and the negative impact it will have on the village. Why spoil such a nice village?
